KELLEHER

From bewildered freshmen to sophisticated seniors,

PAUL

We pass through four very changing years.

Through all the changes,
there are things that happen for the first time . . .

CANHAM

KELLEHER

and things that happen for the last time . .

PAUL

But above all, things always to be remembered.

PAUL

PAUL

The sense of pride and accomplishment when one person—or one group—achieves a set goal.

PAUL

PAUL

PAUL

The excitement of being singled out from a crowd . . .

PAUL

Or the loneliness of being lost in a crowd.

CANNON

There is the glory of winning, and sometimes — always too often — the stark emptiness of losing.

PAUL

PAUL

The joy of one special person, discovered anew by each couple.

PAUL

PAUL

And from this hurricane of emotions, you often find the eye of calm — to sit and think, or discuss new theories.

PAUL

Or is this actually the strongest force of the hurricane?

PAUL

HOWARD

The routine, day-to-day
experiences . . .

ATTINELLO

And occasionally, something special . . .

PAUL

Or at least different.

PAUL

PAUL

And during this time, you also meet very special people — people who are willing to lend a hand, control a situation, solve a problem — and then withdraw, to an obscure position, out of the spotlight, but always ready to help again.

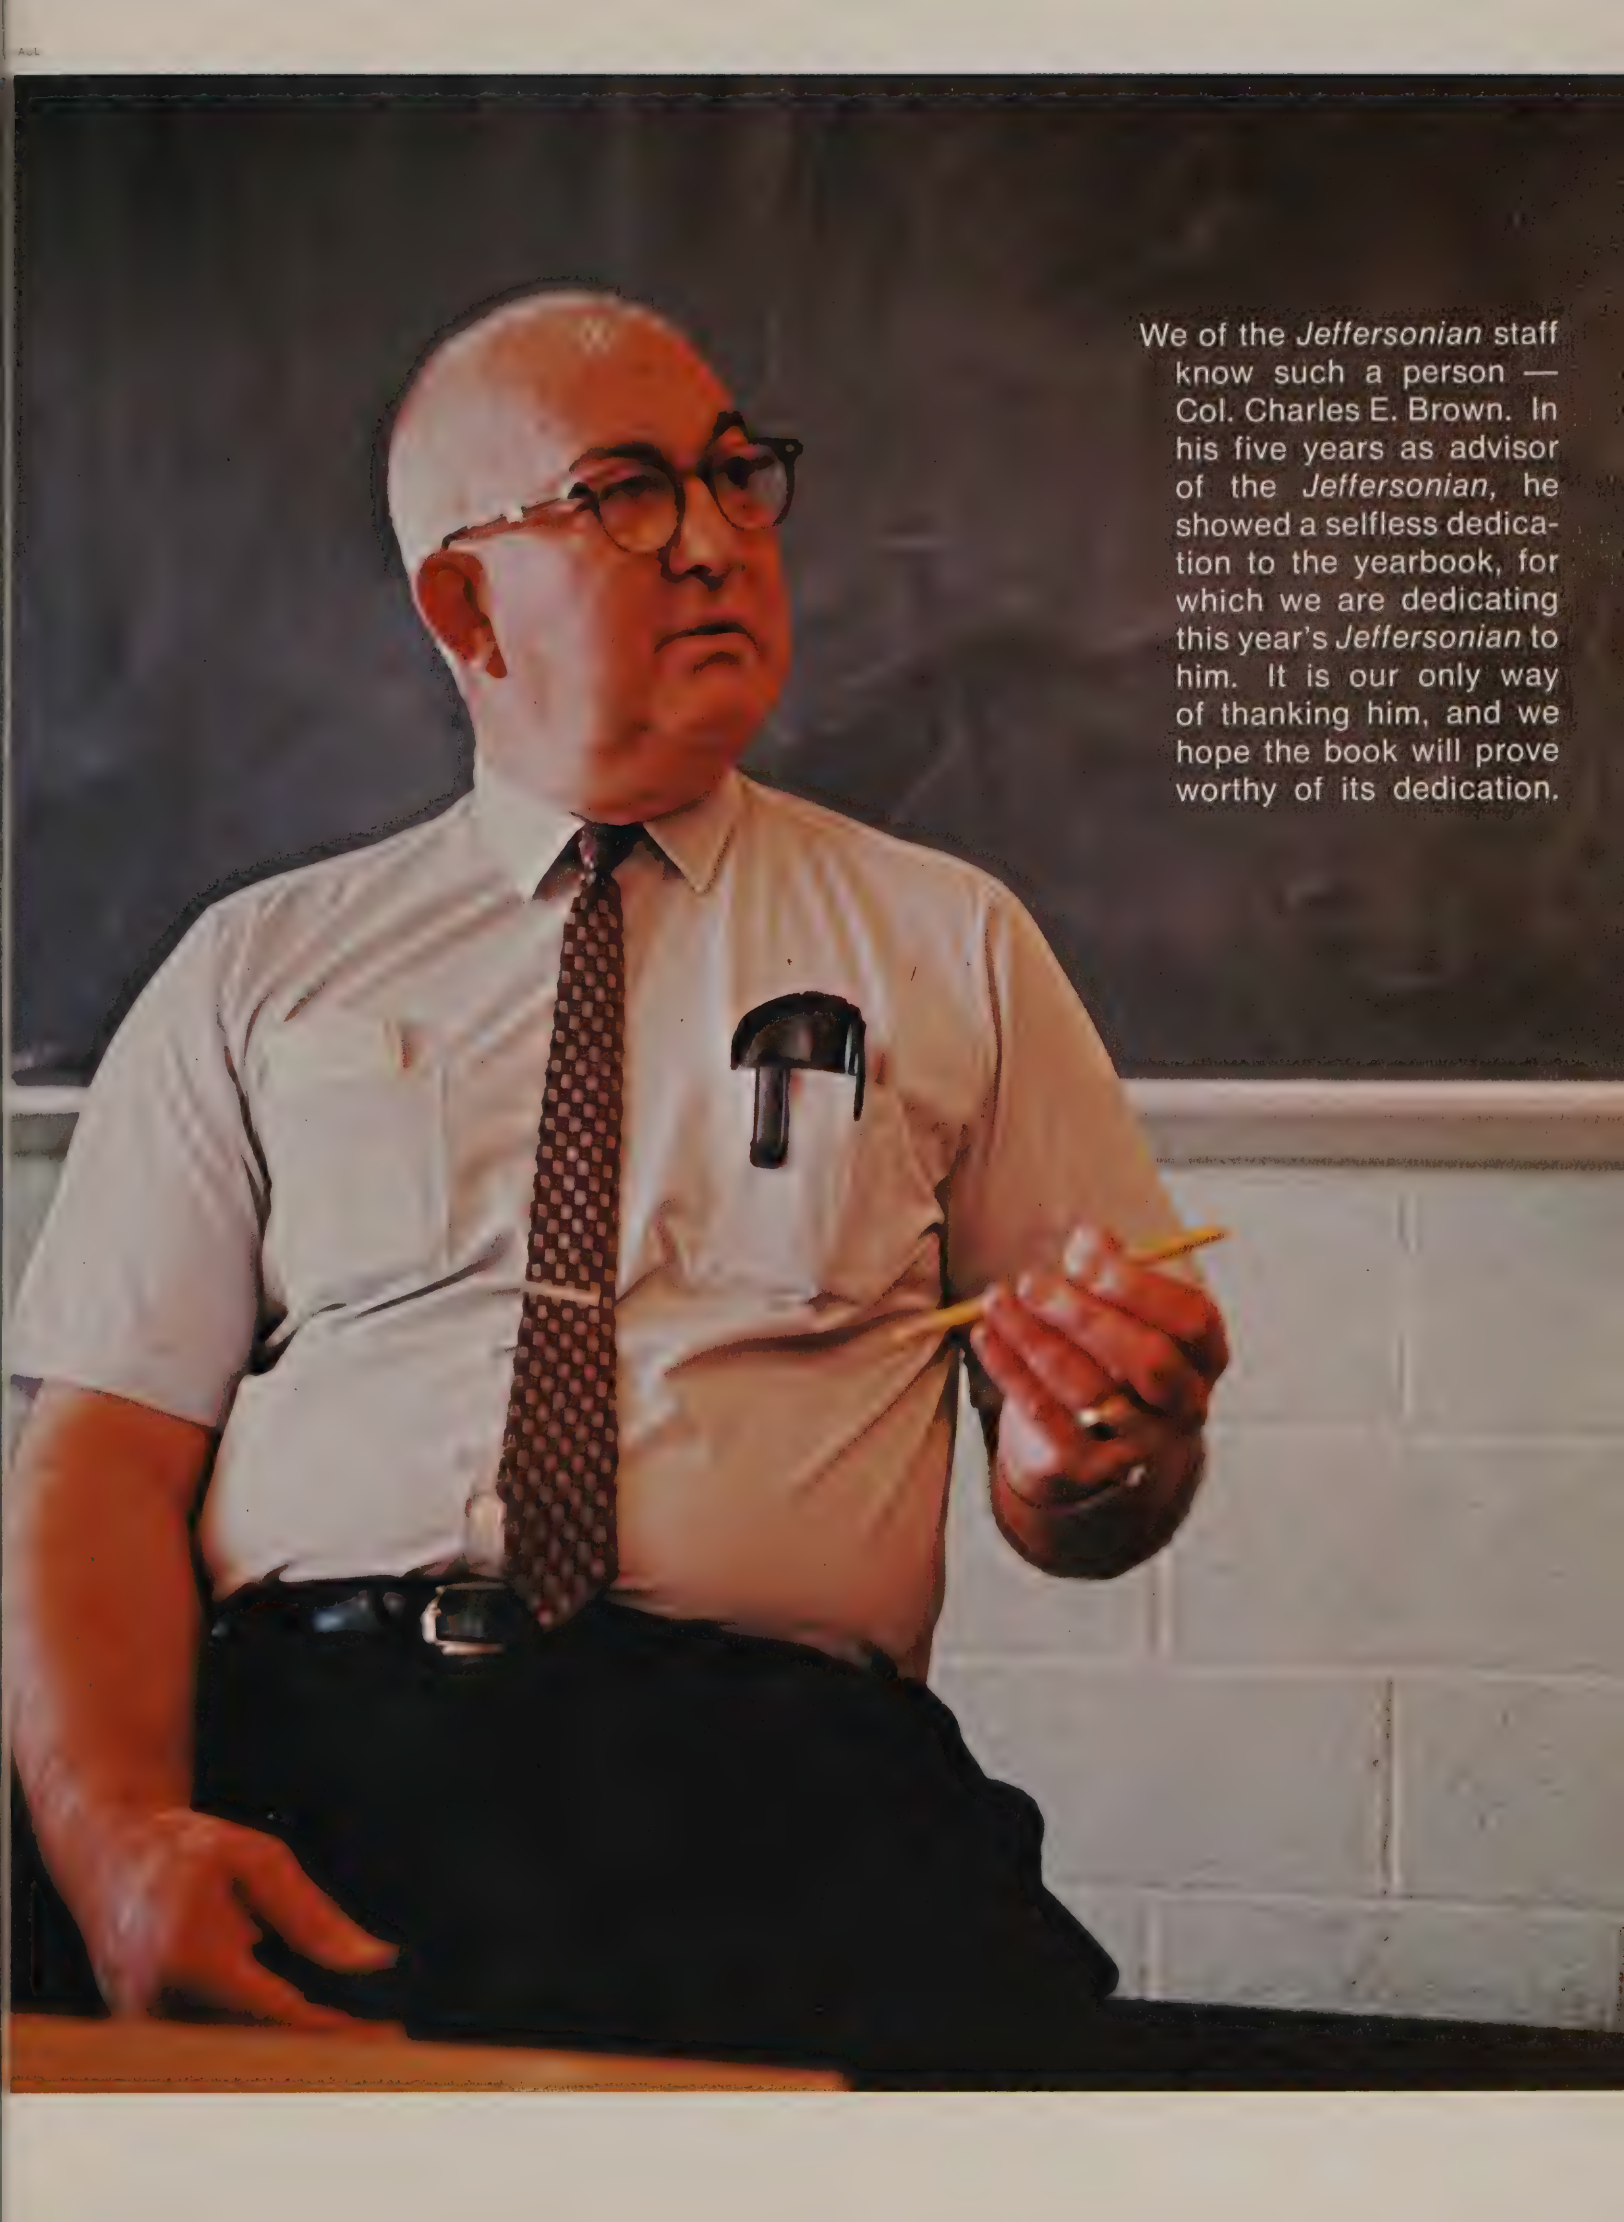

ATTINELLO

PAUL

PAUL

We of the Jeffersonian staff know such a person — Col. Charles E. Brown. In his five years as advisor of the Jeffersonian, he showed a selfless dedication to the yearbook, for which we are dedicating this year's Jeffersonian to him. It is our only way of thanking him, and we hope the book will prove worthy of its dedication.

“Look up, look up,” the wise man said, “look up; you can see the sky!”

Perhaps one of the most important experiences of these four years is people —

learning about people learning with people

reaching out, drawing back;
but reaching out again, in faith.

ATTINELLO

PAUL

PAUL

PAUL

People are what it's all about.

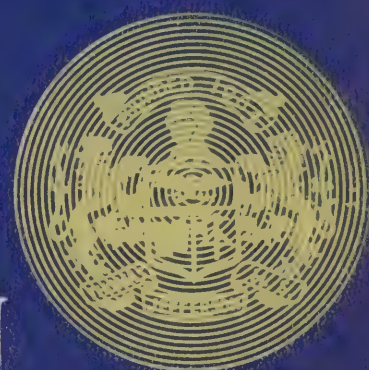

When these four years are done, maybe you won't be able to help looking back. Some people will be eager to leave Jefferson High School; some will be reluctant. But perhaps more will just look back a little, think awhile — and keep going, even a little more confidently than before.

PAUL

After all, this is only the beginning.

To the Graduating Class of 1970

It has been a real pleasure to know you and work with you during your four years at Jefferson High. We have not always been in complete agreement about everything, but I feel that we have been able to keep channels of communication open and to arrive at mutually satisfying solutions to the problems which have confronted us.

It seems that I make similar remarks to all of our graduating classes, but I honestly feel that you are leaving high school at a time when we are all faced with more difficult problems than any other class has faced. I know that your teachers, your parents, and I are all looking forward to some fine contributions from this class. Our society is going to need strong, sensible leadership in the days and years to come, and I am confident that you will do your part.

Your teachers and I hope that your high school education has equipped you well for the many challenges that now face you. We know that you can succeed if you are willing to work hard, regardless of your goals. We all wish you the best of luck, and we invite you to come back to see us and to let us know whenever we can help you in any way.

"... and while we realize your wish to establish a closer rapport with the students, the moustache must go ..."

GUIDANCE

The guidance department is vital to our total school program. Although much good guidance is provided by the classroom teachers, Mr. Will heads our regular department and co-ordinates the entire guidance program. There is also a staff of six counselors, two secretaries, and various aides.

The role of the guidance department is to enable each student to prepare himself for the future. This is done by providing educational and vocational information and by helping each student make his own decisions.

ENGLISH

MISS MARGARET P. KESSINGER
A.B., Dunbarton College of Holy Cross

"Just watch who you're calling 'Big Mama', kid!"

In the midst of a few mumbles of "I got my fourth choice!" and some grumbling "I thought seniors got priority, and there is a junior in the class I didn't get," the English Department launched its new Elective Program this year. Actually, the grumbles were few; the prevailing mood was one of enthusiasm as juniors and seniors had their first opportunity to choose their courses for each nine-week period.

Under the new program, students choose a new course from among those offered at the periods during which they take English. The offerings range from courses organized around a theme or idea like "Revolution" or "The Supernatural" to those organized around a form of literature like the short story or the novel. Some courses like the "Lost Generation" deal with particular periods involving important developments in ideas and literature.

The idea of an elective program which allows students to choose their own courses of literature did not originate at Jefferson; several high schools in the county have had similar programs for several years. The plan has been received enthusiastically wherever it has been adopted. Both students and teachers have thrived in classes which the students have elected because of their interest. Of course, some of the "same old things" must happen in these English classes so that students can acquire and sharpen skills in language; however, many different things can happen when writing and learning is tied in with topics and types of literature in which students themselves have shown interest. The Jefferson English Department is expecting exciting things to happen in this first year of the Elective Program.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

This year over a thousand students studied Foreign Languages. Classes were offered in French, German, Latin, Russian, and Spanish. Students and teachers alike were delighted with the revised Level One materials. Frequent oral and listening practice both in the classroom and the lab made speaking a foreign language a challenging and vital experience. Learning foreign songs and dances and preparing for the annual Mardi Gras Carnival helped to brighten the post-Christmas slump. The Latin Club Slave Day and Banquet continued to be a school-wide favorite activity.

MATHEMATICS

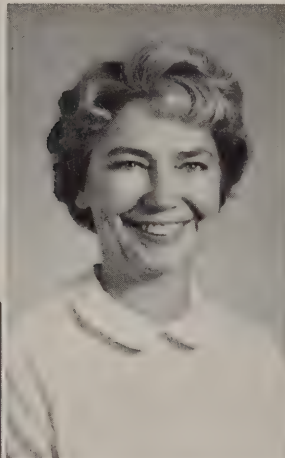

The Math Department, home of last year's fourth placing math team, added two new courses this year. Mathematical Analysis was discontinued and in its place Analytic Geometry and Calculus were added. Available for those students wishing to take one-half credit courses are Trigonometry, Functions, Probability-Statistics, and Analytic Geometry. New textbooks were also a great improvement in the department this year, and the change over will be completed next year; Geometry will retain the same text.

Science, as the student soon learns, is more than a compilation of facts and principles. True, science is a body of knowledge. But science is also a method of inquiry — a way of gaining knowledge and of making discoveries.

Since discoveries in the sciences are now changing the world at a rate never before achieved during man's long climb upward from the cave, each science class at Thomas Jefferson offers to all students an invitation to inquire, to probe, to ask questions, to seek answers, to interpret, to evaluate, to solve problems . . .

Our goal is to develop students who demonstrate personal responsibility for their own learning, intellectual inquiry as revealed by their constant searching for better knowledge, and creativity by seeking new ideas and new relationships among matter. Such students demonstrate that knowledge is viewed not only as worthwhile for its own sake, but also for what it can contribute to developing better educated individuals.

Mr. B. will never make a good Jon Hoffman.

Although the Social Studies Department did not introduce any new programs or courses this year, the department did re-dedicate itself to its basic aim of helping students arrive at rational decisions and answers to social problems. Too often today, opinions and decisions are based on emotional appeals—problems are rarely solved by such simplistic appeals. The three units of social studies, which all students are required to complete, are designed to acquaint students with political, economic, geographic, and cultural forces that shape modern society. It is through an analysis of these forces that a mature person forms rational opinions and makes pragmatic decisions.

The number of Art Department classes has grown this year increasing the number of staff members to three. In addition to co-sponsoring the Mardi Gras festival with the Foreign Language Department and continuing co-operation with the Industrial Arts Department, we have expanded our school involvement by team teaching with the English and History Departments in the World Civilization course, and by permanently enhancing the planetarium with an 8' by 24' mural exhibited by Art IV students.

Our weekend painting trips have been especially successful, and we have added trips to professional art schools to view the classes in session, and a weekend painting and drawing trip as an exchange with the art students from a rural Virginia area.

Our students have entered their work in all area shows and exhibits, winning a fine share of awards. This in itself is indicative of the fine instruction they have received through the Art Department.

The 100 piece "Marching Colonials" are a competition band whose total size is 192 with 50 in reserve. Besides the band, this number includes the 72 member drill team, the "Colonialettes", and the newest addition, an exciting twenty member Swiss Flag Corps.

The "Marching Colonials" were well received when the Senators invited them to provide pre-game entertainment at the D. C. Stadium early in 1969. The group entered six festivals last year and are scheduled for eight more this year. They have consistently taken top awards in their competitions. As some of their most note-worthy accomplishments, they received top honors at Williamsburg's Kiwanis Day Band Muster. Also, the "Marching Colonials" gave a superb performance in May, 1969, at the Kentucky Derby Festival's Fourteenth Annual Pegasus Parade. The "Marching Colonials" were one of only 30 bands in the United States accorded the honor to perform. They, along with the Thomas Jefferson Majorettes, represented the Washington Area, the State of Virginia, and the East Coast in the finest tradition, winning three top awards in this event.

The choral department has three main organizations, the girls' chorus, concert choir, and the madrigal singers. From within these groups come several ensembles as well as soloists. Many students have the opportunity to serve as accompanists, both for rehearsal and actual performance.

A fall concert, two Christmas concerts, Broadway Night, and a final spring performance are the major efforts annually of the department.

Sprinkled in among the concert works are performances at the National Christmas Tree by the Choir and Madrigal, a Spring exchange concert and numerous community appearances.

From the ranks of the three organizations come selected singers for the All County Chorus, held this year at Woodson High School.

Repertoire from the Renaissance through Contemporary works were a part of the year's singing experience.

"What note was that?!?"

The Home Economics department's enrollment increased this year so that it now has two full time teachers. Both junior and senior girls who wished to learn about Home Economics enrolled with the thought that they are preparing for the wonderful career after graduation, of being a homemaker in their own home.

Both the Senior Homemaking and the advanced home economics courses are planned so girls are prepared to manage a home and also work outside the home. They need help in deciding whether or not to work, and in determining the values she feels important to maintain in the home and in the family. They need help in evaluating child care services if needed.

Many girls will marry before or soon after graduation from high school. Some will go to college but the majority will drop out before graduation. Our program, therefore, is needed to prepare them for their immediate responsibilities. Also, a variety of offerings in home economics are needed to meet the varied needs of students, the college bound, those who will soon be homemakers, those in other secondary curricula, those needing preparation for occupations using home economics knowledge and skills.

The Home Economics department sponsors the Future Homemakers of America, a national organization. Our Jefferson chapter chose for their plan of work for the school year, "TO DARE IS TO CARE." To bring out this theme, the club entertained the small children from the ACCA day center at a Halloween party. The club brought Christmas cheer to the senior citizens at the Leeswood Nursing home. They also had a local policeman, a Vietnam veteran, talk to them. As a result of this excellent talk they made cookies and sent them to the boys in Viet-Nam. They co-operated with the Red Cross and made sewing kits and ditty bags. Also, they contributed to the Foreign Exchange student program and to various other drives in the school and community.

In this way the club members recognize, understand, and cope with changes which affect personal, family, and community living. The Home Economics program as well as the F.H.A. program has as its major concern the individual and how she can live most successfully in homes and communities today and in the future.

The Industrial Arts Department of Thomas Jefferson High School offered a wide variety of courses this year. During the day you could find students working in any one of eight different areas in General Shop I. Here the students learned about tools, materials, and processes. In General Shop II students could be observed working on more advanced projects, line production methods, and printing. Across the hall were the students in Drawing and Electronics. Three courses in drawing were offered: Mechanical Drawing, Engineering Drawing, and Architectural Drawing. In Electronics, students learned the basics of electricity, and in Electronics II, they learned about radios and televisions, and how to repair (?) them. The Maintenance and Repair class gave the students a chance to practice skills needed to keep our machine-age society running smoothly.

The Staff of the Industrial Arts Department wishes the Class of '70 the best of luck, and invites the Classes of '71, '72, and '73 to participate in our programs.

The Business Department has gone into the business occupation curriculum pattern with the introduction of Stenography Program I last year and Stenography Program II this year. These programs are career-oriented to provide training in job clusters in stenographic, secretarial, and related occupations. In the Steno II program we have 15 students attending school four periods and working in the afternoon. We also have twenty-four Vocational Office Training students attending school and working a half-day. These students are closely supervised and co-ordinated while on the job. Wages are earned for their work and students enjoy the same benefits as regular company employees.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION AND

VOCATIONAL OFFICE TRAINING

"Boy! I'll bet I could do this blindfolded!"

The Vocational Office Training program is a program of occupational preparation which provides high school seniors with opportunities for learning basic skills for office jobs by actual participation on a job under competent supervision.

Vocational Office Training provides the student with the opportunity to earn while learning and thus prepares him better for careers in American businesses. The students work three to four hours each afternoon while taking three or four subjects at school in the morning.

This year's VOT program consists of 39 students employed in secretarial and clerical positions with the Navy Department at the Pentagon, the State Department, Internal Revenue, Defense Supply Agency, Defense Intelligence, the White House, real estate, banking, electronic, research, transfer, and storage firms as well as various other types of offices.

Standing as the symbol of sportsmanship, school spirit, and unity, the Health, Physical Education and Athletic Department serves the students through class instruction, intramurals and interscholastic sports. Vim, vigor, and vitality set the pace for the P. E. classes at Jefferson. The freshmen and sophomores who are required to take Physical Education concentrate on group sports and team work; while the juniors and seniors are concerned with individual activities and skills which will carry over in the years to come.

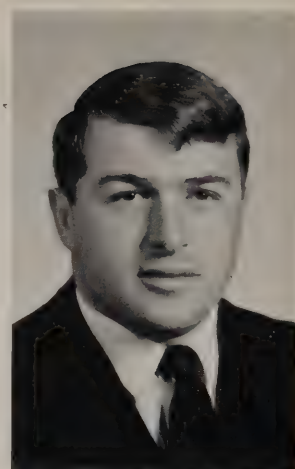

Class instruction offers a variety of topics which include Health and Safety, First Aid, Personality, Personal Health and Hygiene, Driver Education—both classroom and behind the wheel—alcohol, narcotics, and tobacco.

Opportunities for participation in many of the activities taught in the instructional program are provided through the intramural programs.

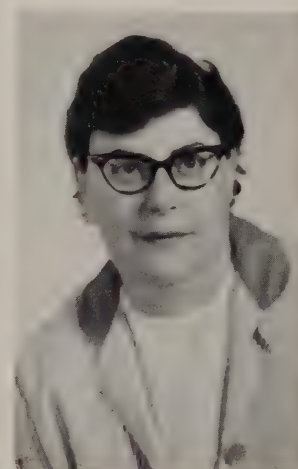

The interscholastic sports program includes competition in Field Hockey, Basketball, and Softball for the girls. Football, Basketball, Baseball, Wrestling, Track and Field, Golf, and Tennis are open for boys. Gymnastics for both boys and girls is on the planning board now.

The Physical Education instructors coach the interscholastic sports teams and intramurals as well as sponsor a Varsity Lettermen's Club for the boys and G.A.A. for the girls.

With the wide variety of activities, the department hopes to meet the requirements and interests of all the students.

DURRER

A.F.S. STUDENT

JOAQUIN BAYO DELGADO

One of the first things I found when I arrived at my new home, here in the U. S., was a letter from Koko, the AFS student before me in TJ, that starts: "Welcome to Jefferson High School! Honestly I think Jefferson is one of the best schools I have ever known. I am sure you will have a lovely year." This made me very pleased but I wanted to find out for myself. What is my opinion now, about TJ? The same as Koko's. Really, I am enjoying my experience here and I feel among friends. The courses I am taking are very interesting to me and some of them not only give me an opportunity to take from US but also to give something of myself. We AFS'ers are here to receive and to give, so that "Walk together, talk together" becomes a fact among "all people from the Earth." The things I like best about Jefferson, and I suppose all American schools, is the activities after classes. This gives students the chance to know each other a little better than during the busy schedule of the day. And, of course, I like the football games, for the football itself, and perhaps more, for the "spirit" of all of us. I am sure this will be a year which I will never forget and I will be able to say, when in Spain: "There, in America, I have friends I would like to see again."

"If you want that read, you say it!"

O.K. you guys sell!"

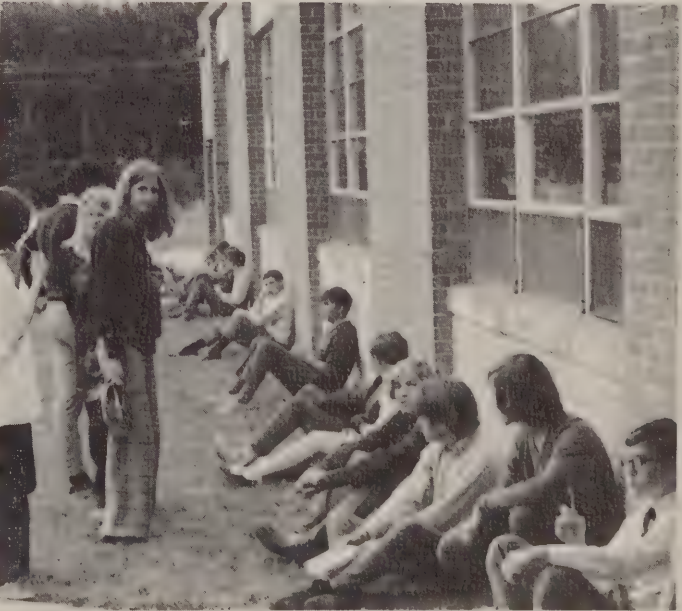

The S.C.A. sponsored Homecoming activities: the game . . .

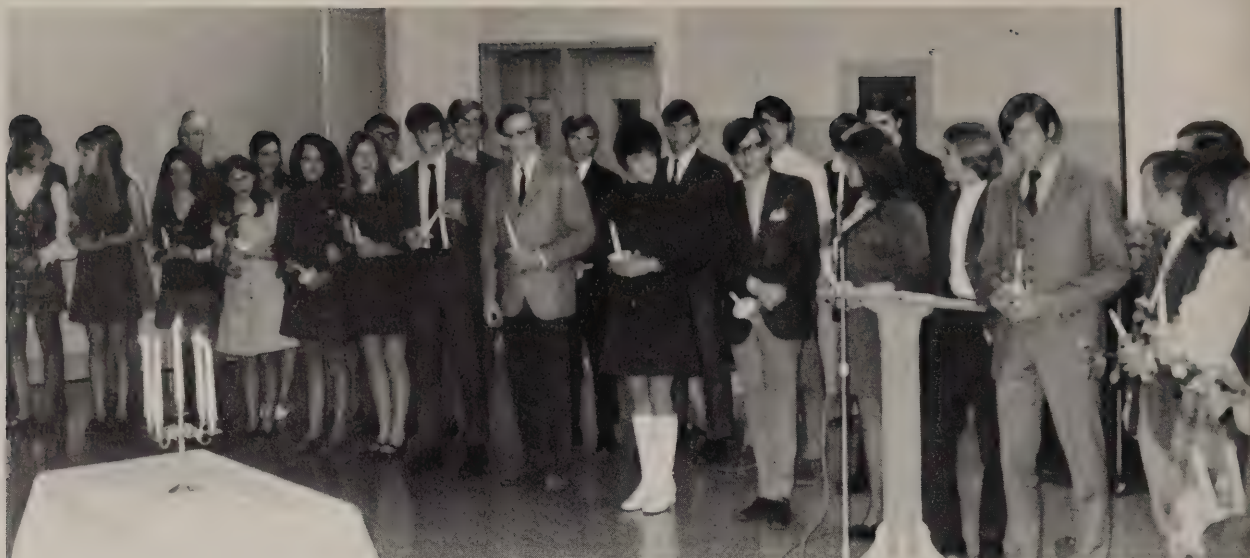

The S.C.A. officers, from top: Brian Lewis, Dennis Rabinovitz, Mike Rabinovitz, and Mary Middlemas.

. . . and the dance.

The S.C.A. led the drive to give Jefferson the most liberal Fairfax County dress code.

"Pass it down — wake up Schroeder!"

Coach Astolfi gets helpful tips from Coach Cowles in the press box.

As the 1969 football season came to an end, an old tradition of the Thomas Jefferson Football Team was broken. For the first time since our school's opening, the Varsity Football Team under head coach Ray Peterson and Coaches Lou Astolfi and John Cowles, became the first Varsity Team to achieve a winning season (4-3-3). The team had its goal set for a more prosperous season, but the mere fact of being winners for the first time instilled in them a type of pride that will not be lost in years ahead.

A tradition has been broken and hopefully a new one has begun . . . A "come from behind victory" in the last two minutes of play in the West Springfield game, keeping Annandale from crossing the goaline which has not happened in the past six years, and shutting out Fairfax 19-0, were among the highlights of the '69 season. Also, Coach Astolfi's defense was ranked fourth in Northern Virginia allowing only 8.6 points a game.

Coach Peterson was elected by the district coaches as "Coach of the Year" in the toughest district in the area, the Northern District. Captain Chris Westcott was named to the first team Northern Virginia Team and Northern District Team for the second consecutive year as a Defensive Halfback. Howard Sorber was named to the Northern District Team as Defensive End, and Rick Cummings was named on the second team Northern Virginia Team and the first team Northern District Team as an Offensive End.

Receiving the various team awards for the 1969 season were Sportsmanship Award, Steve Martenson; Most Valuable Player Award, Steve Martenson; Back of the Year, Chris Westcott; and Lineman of the Year, Howard Sorber.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

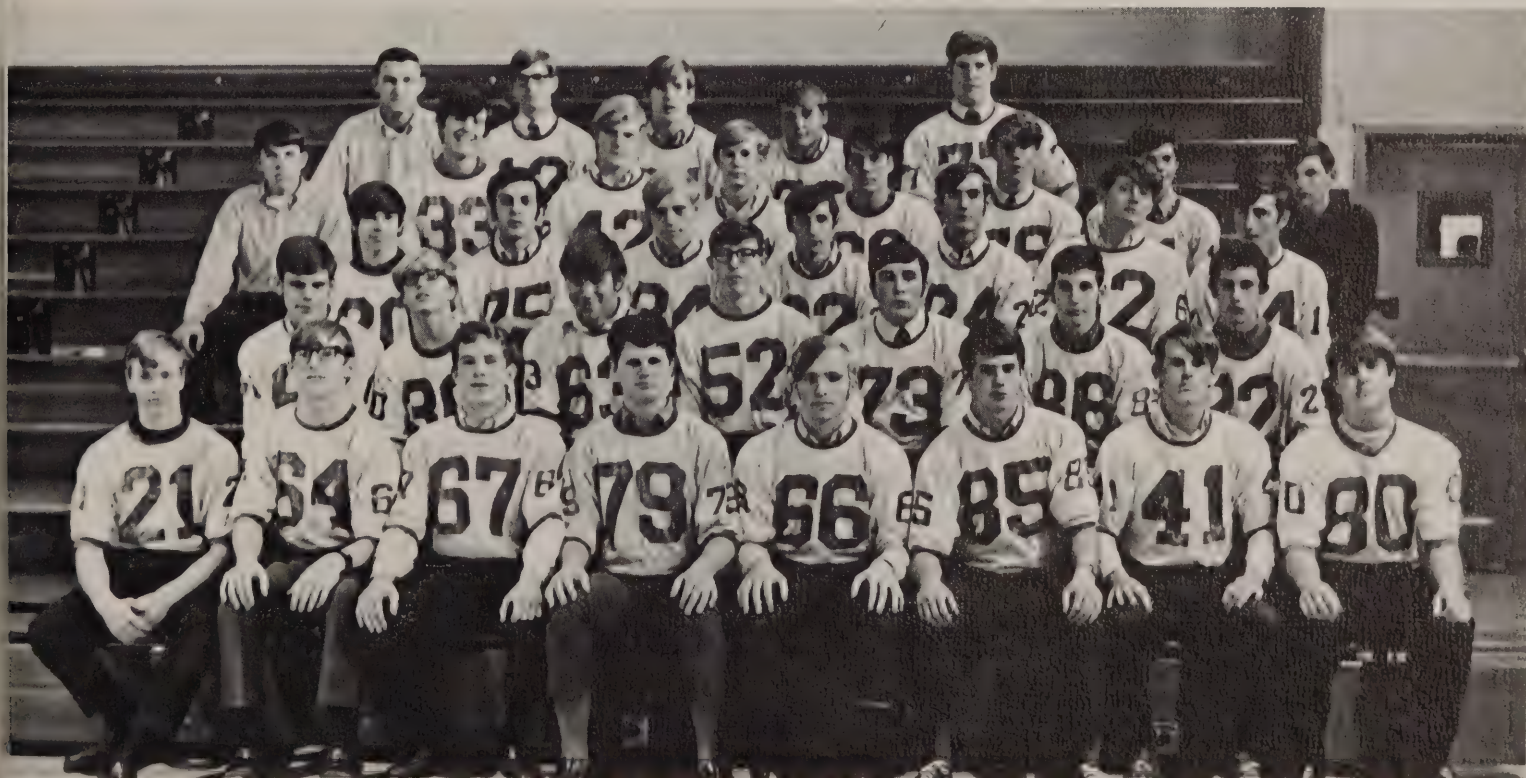

The Junior Varsity Football Team broke even this year with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses. They gained much momentum toward the end of the season by winning the last 2 games with decisive scores and compiling over 900 yards rushing. One reason for such an unbalanced season was that the Junior Varsity Squad had only 2 weeks to prepare for their first game, whereas the other squads had more time.

Some exceptionally fine ball players were discovered during the season. A few of these players are Ken Murphy, who scored 8 touchdowns, Duke Hale who scored 5 times, and Randy Scott who had a single-game rushing high of 255 yards.

Throughout the season, under the fine coaching of Charles Rayburn, the team's spirit was kept high.

The Freshman Football Team had a very tough season this year. Except for their games against Annandale and Stuart, they did not allow their opponents to score more than 3 touchdowns. Considering the fact that a freshman team is a beginning team, they are naturally faced with many more problems than are more experienced teams.

Tim Bellows, Steve Beers, Trip Dawson, and Francis Dall were among the players who led the team during the season. Tim Bellows was elected by his teammates to receive the Sportsmanship Award.

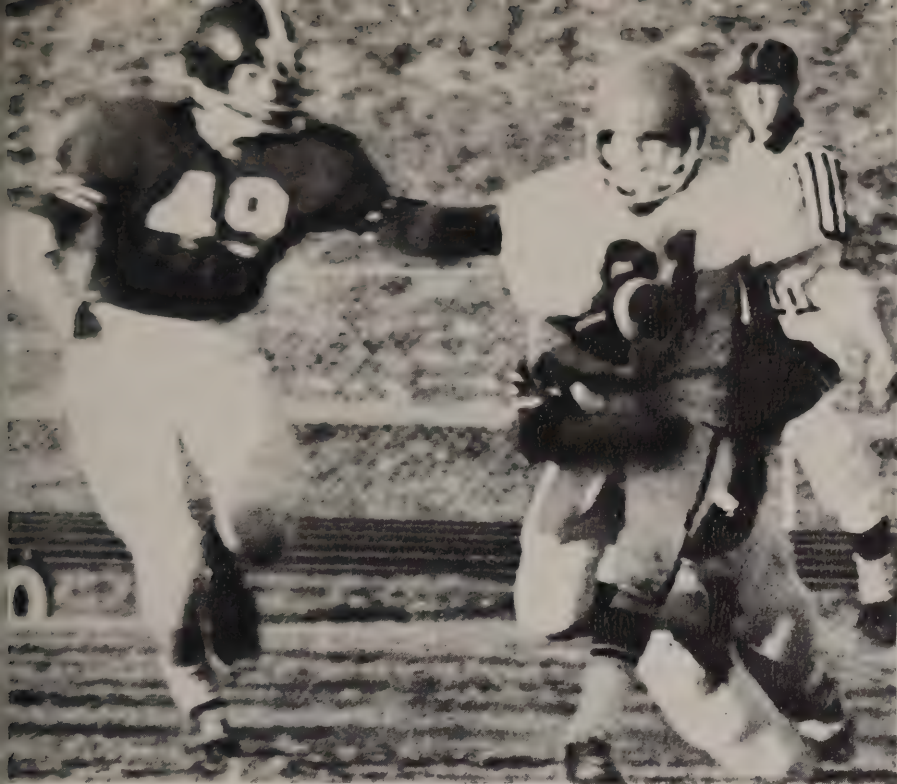

Under Coaches Don Henderson and Charles Huntley, a group of untrained boys were taken in hand and changed into an experienced hard-working team prepared to turn out a successful season next year.

CROSS COUNTRY

An abundance of underclassmen enhanced this year's Cross Country Team. With the experience that these runners have accumulated, our Cross Country Team has shown great promise for the coming year. Tom Novack, a sophomore, has had the honor of being elected next year's team Captain.

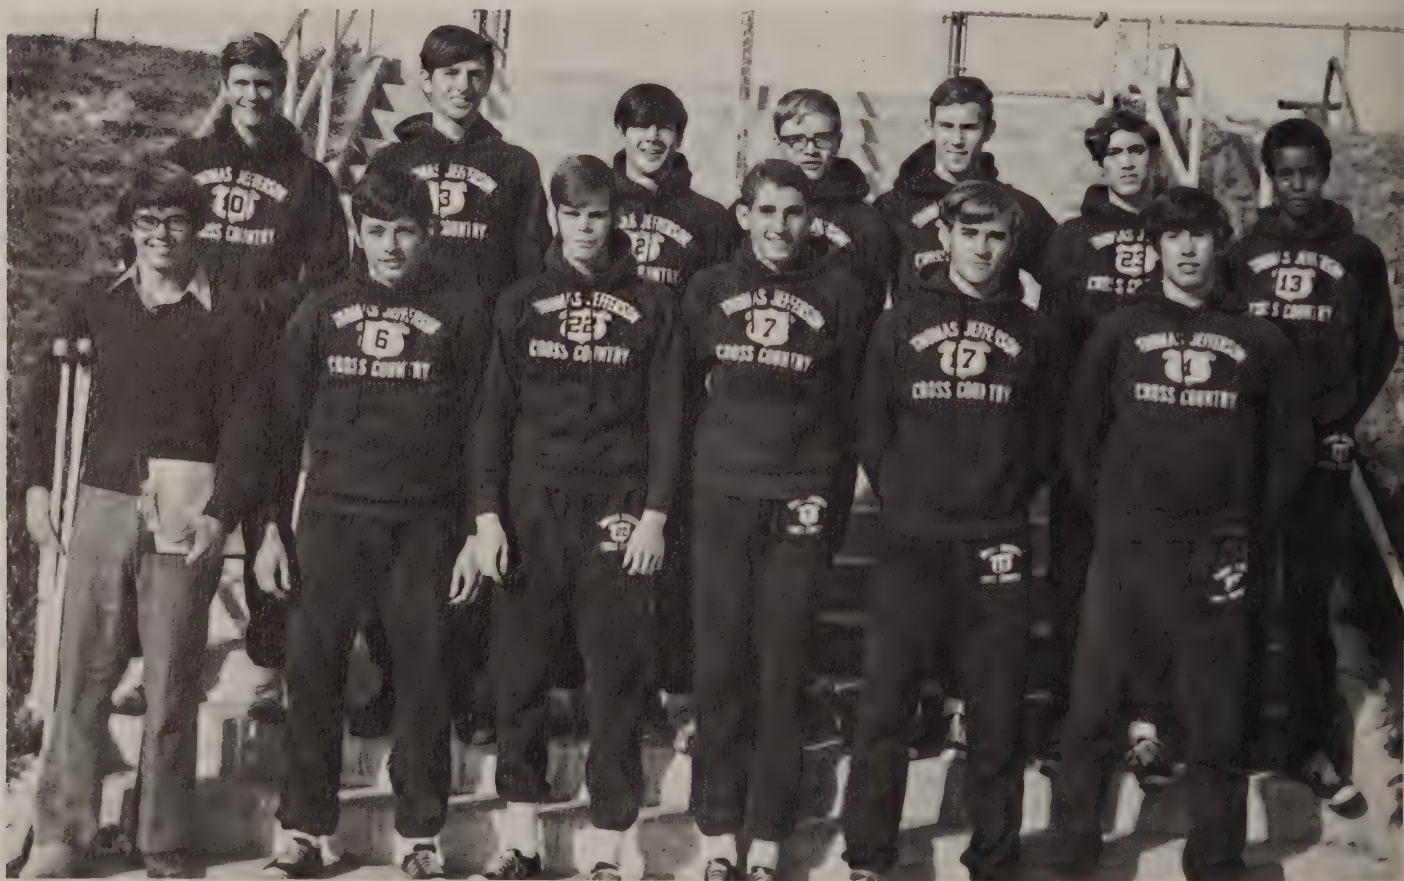

The team this year broke even with a 3 win-3 loss record. One encouraging fact was that we defeated Stuart High School in the Regionals after having been defeated by them during the regular season. Speaking of Regionals, Rick Cummings, who was elected the Most Valuable Player on the team, placed 13th in the Regionals out of a field of 176 runners.

Inexperience and lack of defensive speed proved to be the two major obstacles the Varsity Hockey Team faced this year, although determination and desire motivated the girls to play exceedingly close games against their more experienced opponents. Among the Highlights during the hockey season were a win over Fairfax which proved to be a well-played game and a near victory over the undefeated McLean High School. Of the four returning Varsity players—Thelma Gower, Star Poe, Connie Slawson, and Sandy Sperry—Connie Slawson and Sandy Sperry lead the girls as team co-captains. Also leading and coaching the team with much wise supervision and hockey tactics was Coach Miss Cockerham who guided the girls through their rough games. The leading scorers for the season were Thelma Gower, Diana Knapp, Connie Slawson, Sandy Sperry, and Janet Stewart.

The Junior Varsity Team had a disappointing season against their eight opponents this year. With a year's experience and hockey know-how, the JV team looks forward to a more promising season for next year. Bridget Bonham, an offensive player, and Garnett Donnalley and Kathy Kramer, defensive players, contributed much skill in their attempt for a more successful season. The team was led by co-captains Doris Jean and Kathy Kramer. Miss Stacks coached the girls on, and kept up their spirit so that for each game they returned to the field with much enthusiasm and optimism.

TJ has been very fortunate in accumulating three winning seasons in a row. This year the team was even more closely knit than previous squads, and was indeed a "team" in the true meaning of the word as nine of the twelve players split the playing time. In the words of Coach Wickline, this team was "a very fine group of young men and also hard workers at every practice and game. Thus, there were no problems all year."

This year's team established eight team records and three individual records. A few of the leading scorers were Bill Kramer with 203 points; Steve Hedlund with 168 points; Carlton Summers with 165 points; Wayne Wheeler with 156 points; and Jim Roberts with 131 points.

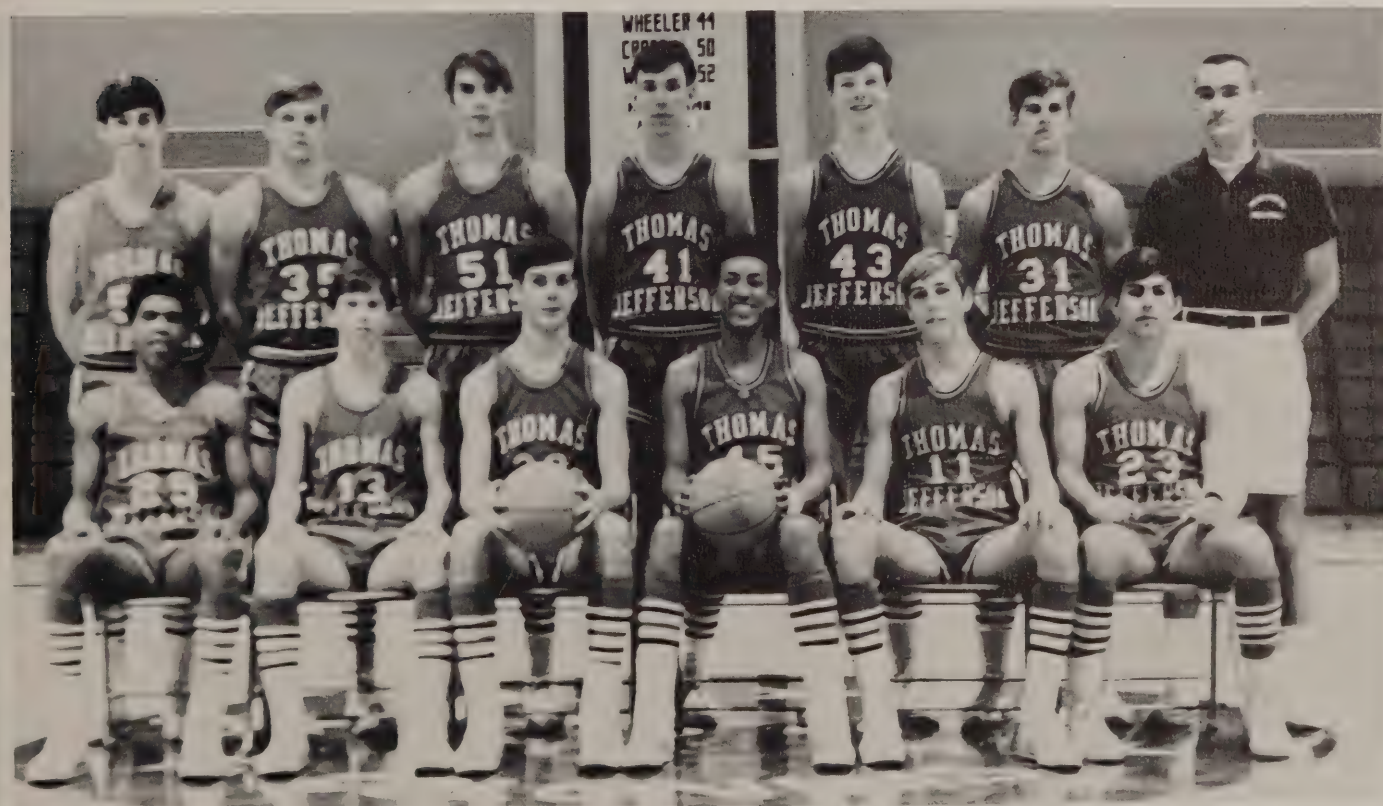

Under the captainship of Bill Kramer and Wayne Wheeler, the team moved their way to an 11-9 record. We all hope that next year captains Carlton Summers and Steve Hedlund can do as well. With five returning lettermen and eight players returning altogether, the outlook is hopeful.

Bill Kramer was voted by his teammates as the Most Valuable Player along with Wayne Wheeler as the Outstanding Rebounder, Steve Hedlund as the Best Defensive Player and Sportsmanship, Mark Troutman. Another individual honor was awarded to Jim Roberts, that of All Tournament Player.

With all this returning talent along with the expert coaching of Mr. Wickline, the team next year is shaping up to look just great.

Every year TJ has had a great Junior Varsity Basketball Team. Last year, TJ was lucky enough to have a championship team, and this year, the squad finished with a 15 win-4 loss season; another outstanding record.

The team set two individual records this year: Henry Worsham set a record for the number of rebounds, 188; and David Engle set a record for the number of points made by an individual during the season, 195.

The spirit of the squad was high all year, which showed the attitude of these young men towards basketball. Coach Hulen was an important determining factor of the success of the team's season.

Coach Hulen contemplates the next game.

"Look guys, there's no time to argue, I'll take the ball."

... and the Colonials score again.

The freshman round-ballers put on an end-of-the-season rush by winning their last 5 games to finish with a 7-win, 5-loss record. This displays great potential, eager for development. In the words of Coach Henderson himself, "This team and these boys have the potential to be as good as they want. At this level, each boy has only begun to develop his vast resource of talents. These boys, in the next two or three years, can win the state basketball title. There are 3 or 4 boys who could become another Jerry West or Oscar Robertson."

A few of the most outstanding players on the team were Francis Dall, who played half the season on the J.V. team and set a record for the assists by one individual; Dana Page, center; Jeff Fuhrmann, forward; Jeff Wheeler, forward and guard; and Brad Washington, forward.

The spirit of the team was high throughout the season, which is exemplary of the attitude these fine boys have towards the sport. Another reason for the high spirit was the alternating of captains which took place each game.

With all this talent in the freshman squad, Mr. Hulen seems to have few worries for next year's J.V. season.

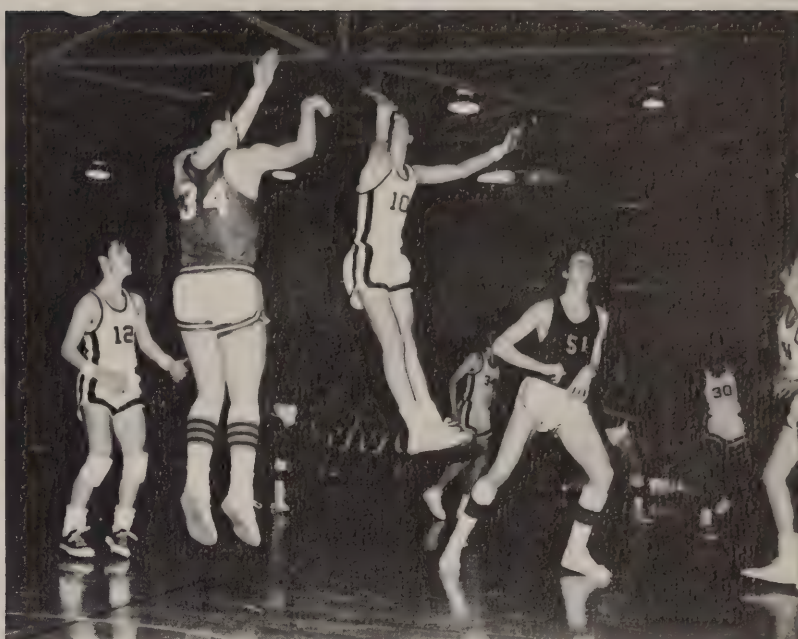

First Row: Fred Knaak, Mgr.; Jeff Wheeler, Dana Page, Jeff Fuhrmann, Bob Weaver, Mgr. Second Row: Coach Henderson, Jim Bachman, Skip Garrett, John Watts, Ed Martinez, Brad Washington, Robert Rosenblum, Bob Melby, Greg Friedrich, Bob Mandersheid, Mgr. Third Row: Dan Shugart, Kevin McCaa, Tim Bellows, Scott Kidd, George Augst, Ben Newhall.

The 1969-70 season for the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team proved to be an exciting one. The team produced a record of 7 wins-4 losses. With this record, they came in 4th in the county and 2nd in the district; the highest mark reached by the Varsity girls.

The squad was lead by two outstanding team members, Sue Tracy and Patty Mahan. Sue Tracy was the high scorer of the season, averaging 20 points per game, while Patty Mahan led the team in assists. Suzanne Spurlock and Sue Tracy were the high rebounders for the season.

One of the highlights of the season came when Jefferson defeated the second place teams in each district at the Fairfax County Sportsday.

Much of the team's success was due to the determination and team effort displayed by the girls. Along with this, Coach Morrison assisted the girls with clever planning which made their season a winning season.

Mrs. Cockerham, the JV Girls' coach.

The 1969-70 Girls' JV Basketball Team finished with an overall record of ten wins and two losses—the best yet for TJ. The squad led by co-captains, Karen Hardison and Kathy Kramer, achieved first in their district and tied for second in the county. The six returning JV players gave a basis upon which a strong team developed.

The team averaged 30 points per game while allowing only 20 points per game to their opponents. Kathy Kramer set a new individual record by scoring 22 points in one game, and a new team record was set as a result of the Fairfax game in which the girls scored 43 points against Fairfax.

One of the highlights during the season was the game against Falls Church, in which excellent teamwork and calmness enabled the team to win the close game.

As the result of the JV's season, it is easy to see that the team had great coaching guidance. Coach Cockerham supplied the team with mental skill which led the team to victory.

The '69-'70 Varsity Wrestling Squad had a powerful season as they turned out a nine win—four loss victorious record. The matmen were led by co-captains Charlie Harvith and Howard Sorber in the first winning season at Jefferson. Although the wrestlers were handicapped by the loss of three first stringers, Howard Sorber, Charlie Harvith, and Pat Dean, they were spurred on to win match after match.

Harry Withers displayed an exceptionally successful record with eleven wins and two losses, ten of which were pins. Joe Russell finished with eleven wins and two losses and Pat Lynch achieved nine wins, three losses, and one tie.

Qualifying for Regionals were Harry Withers, Dave Anelli, Jerry Perkins, Joe Russell, Tom Lyon, Dale Midkiff, Det Haislip, and Pat Lynch. As a result of these, Pat Lynch placed 4th in the 185 weight class in the Northern District, and Joe Russell earned the title of Regional Champion in Northern Virginia in the 145 weight class. To compliment this fact, Joe placed 3rd in the State.

The Varsity Squad emerged with a tremendous season which was largely due to the outstanding strategy of Coach Rayburn.

JUNIOR VARSITY WRESTLING

The JV Wrestling Team was awarded with the Northern Championship title, with a 6-0 record. Overall, the team's record was a fabulous eleven wins and two losses, the best JV wrestling record so far. Many individual records were broken by team members. Among these were Jeff Perkins, 98 lbs., who had a high of ten pins and 56 team points, and Chris King had the quickest pin all season. Other notable players were Joe Valler, 137 lbs., with a 11-1-1 record; Tad Sargent, 155 lbs., with a record of 10-2-1; Jeff Perkins, 98 lbs., winning 12 of his 13 matches; and Joe Freeman, 115 lbs., winning 9 of his 12 matches—an outstanding job done by all.

With the aid of Coach Astolfi's tips on tactics and maneuvers, the JV grapplers proved their expert ability in the field of wrestling; ability which will hopefully carry into the Varsity season next year.

Under the coaching of both Coach Astolfi and Coach Rayburn, the freshman wrestlers completed another successful year with five wins and one loss. The loss was the first match lost by the freshman wrestlers in two years.

STUDENT LIFE

Linda Slingerland, Divison Editor

IN THE BEGINNING . . .

Though the first day of school showed a difference from previous years in the new, more liberal dress code, the beginning of this year was not much different from any other. Once again we found ourselves jarred awake by the morning announcements and then bored to sleep by the rest of the day. And once again the computer had goofed somewhere and put a girl in a boys' gym class.

For the freshmen, the first day meant learning the way around a new school with the aid of a few not-so-helpful maps and a few even less helpful upperclassmen. ("217 . . . yeah . . . well, you go up to the third floor and hang a right . . ."). And everyone at one time or another found himself at his locker confidently dialing last year's combination.

At last, after battling through STEP and SCAT tests, the magazine drive, the readjusting of stomachs to the school lunch program, and the fight with a million other screaming people for a seat at the first pep rally, Jefferson's student body settled down (more or less) into a dazed acceptance of the daily routine.

Jefferson's annual homecoming weekend took place on October 24, 1969, beginning with the exciting football game with Woodson. The halftime festivities included an outstanding show by the band, the Colonialettes, the Swiss Flag Corps, and the majorettes. The parade of the floats and the procession of cars carrying the Queen and her court then followed. Much time and effort went into the building of the floats and excellent work was displayed in all of them. First place was awarded to the junior class for their big teddy bear and honorable mention went to the senior class with their pink elephant.

With the next night came the dance. The beautifully executed fall motif transformed the Jefferson cafeteria almost beyond recognition. Music was provided by The Incredible Fog. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Queen, Trisha Powell, her Maid-of-Honor, Karen Wheeler, and her court.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Once again, the annual Key Club-sponsored Christmas Dance was a fantastic event. After many hours of hard work, the dance was held on December 20, 1969. The crowd danced to the music of the Renaissance. This year, the presentation of the Queen came as a surprise to everyone, because the two candidates had tied. Both Debbie Maness and Patti Matteson were crowned Queen, and the court was presented.

MARDI GRAS

NEL ELLER

NELLEHER

Jefferson's second annual Mardi Gras, sponsored by the Art and Foreign Language departments, was held on February 10, 1970. The celebration began with a costume parade through the halls during sixth period, after which everyone proceeded to the cafeteria. Here one could throw a pie at a favorite teacher, enter a cake walk, throw darts at balloons, have his fortune told, or sample strange foods from the many foreign countries represented.

The climax of the afternoon was the Tour d' Ecole (tricycle race). The contestants pedalled madly down the hall, through the study-lecture room, and back out to the finish line. First prize was won by Lynda Freeman.

Much work went into the celebration, with the preparations beginning before Christmas. This paid off in profits estimated at $500, which will be used to buy supplies for the two sponsoring departments.

Various forms of advertising were used to encourage attendance at the dance.

Despite the white world of snow outside, the annual Keyette-sponsored Sweetheart Dance was a success. It was held on Valentine's Day, February 14, and the music was provided by the Unknown Living. Monta Lee Dakin was crowned Sweetheart Queen with Deska Adams as the Maid-of-Honor.

SENIOR SPAGHETTI DINNER

On February 8, 1970, the Senior class held their annual Mama Morelli Spaghetti Dinner. A hard-working group, headed by Gary Laws, spent many weeks preparing for the event, and the result was a great success.

The work was broken down into several committies: publicity, headed by Lucy Knapp; waiters, headed by David Lowe; desserts and workers, headed by Janet Houston and Jeanne Ricketts; and ticket sales, headed by Linda Phipps.

The diners were entertained by Mike Bedwell and his guitar.

Helping Papa that evening were John Settlemyer as chief organizer of the affair, Amy Mathis as head of the waitresses, and many other juniors who shall go nameless but not unthanked.

... growing closer

becoming a oneness

now we have something we never had before a friendship

This is only the beginning, yes—we hope it is only the beginning.

PAUL

While you were here at Jefferson, the seasons changed only sixteen times.
Hardly worth mentioning, when you consider how long man has been on earth.

PAUL

And yet the years can be as valuable or worthless as you make them.

You can stop growing
And die in mind
And wither like a handful of dead leaves.

KELTHER

Or you can take the learning and experience of these four years, and build on it.

PAUL

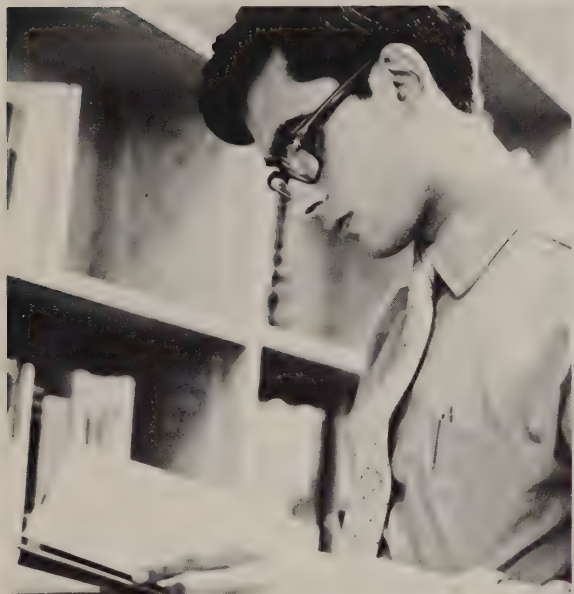

KELTHER

A very important trust has been placed in your hands . . .
One life—yours.

Maybe you can't change the world.
You still can change your life . . .

someone else's life . . .

that small sphere which is your world.

Will you?

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Dear Readers of the 1970 Jeffersonian:

Only a yearbook staffer could understand what it is like to be faced with the task of putting one entire year of emotions, events, and people between two leather-covered pieces of cardboard. The work, the long hours, the worries, the joys, the frustrations, the ultimate happiness . . . And only a staffer could realize how many people need to be thanked after publication.

I realized this year how fortunate Jefferson is to have our particular administration. Mr. Jordan, the assistant principals, and all the secretaries — in the main office and guidance — were all so cooperative and willing to help in any way. The faculty, too, was understanding in letting our staffers out of classes at deadline time, when every second counted. A few people in particular that I would like to thank are: Mrs. Button, who has been a financial asset for many years; Mrs. Paone, who probably doesn't recognize me because I was so rarely in homeroom; Mr. Gardner and Mr. Belfield, for excusing so many staffers from their classes; Miss Lange, who, being a veteran yearbook editor, offered large amounts of understanding and advice; and Miss Wilson, who for two years has not only lived next to the yearbook room and seldom complained, but has listened to the various problems of the many yearbook staffers she has had in her classes.

Many of the students deserve recognition for doing their best to help the book. People who did the "small" things — such as staying out of The Room at deadline time, not being fools whenever a photographer tried to take a picture, being understanding of their friends who were on the yearbook staff, and just generally being more than decent. We also appreciate Mark Troutman for flying his airplane in an unsuccessful attempt at an overhead picture, and Rusty for risking his life to take the picture. Of course, there are many who deserve recognition for doing an admirable job of messing up the staff and confusing things at every turn. They, however, must go unnamed.

Hunter Publishing Company, of Winston-Salem, N. C., has been our company for six years now. They have been superlative in all aspects of publishing, and whether it was my worried letters to the plant or my anxious visits, everyone was wonderfully helpful. Mr. Charles Perry, who represents the company in Virginia, was a shining example of such a company. Our largest thanks, however, especially from Mr. K. and me, go to Mr. James Ellis (pictured on page 186). His official title is District Graphic Arts Director, but anyone who has ever worked with him will understand why I call him The Miracle Worker. No matter what my question, he always had the answer. From my designation as editor in chief, he has meant more to me than talent, ever-present ever-willing guidance, and thoughtful suggestions; he has become a close friend.

For the yearbook staffers, and two very special people, are my greatest love and thanks reserved.

I don't know how I was so fortunate as to be blessed with this year's staff. I begin to feel the inadequacy of words (which is pretty bad for a yearbook editor to admit), because I don't know how to thank the staff. The juniors — in this, their year of training — did the thousands of busy work tasks which published the book, and helped the seniors in their editorial jobs. They were always cheerful about their work, and their reliable good humor buoyed up the rest of the staff when deadline rush was on.

The senior staffers — what can I say to you? You have put up with me for over two years now; and you were always loyal, while still making your opinions known. What a range of personalities: Rosie, who changed to Wild Rose at deadline time; Ol' Mad Lizzie and Tara — we'll never forget your dance repertoire; Nancy, who taught me how to work with people; Trisha — I can still see your patient smile as you desperately waited for pictures; Sunshine, who battled good-naturedly for change; Annie and Sue, two of the most frustrated bankers in the county; Tutti — what was your record time to Duke?; Johnnie and Brad — the ever-present, effervescent photographers; and Rusty — I remember our long talks, our ferocious arguments, and the unfailing support you gave me, even in the most adverse of circumstances (" . . . and you still haven't turned in that picture of a freshman lost in a crowd . . ."). A very large amount of appreciation goes to Robbie Cannon, for delivering finished pictures in one day. Many, many times, we have made a deadline only because Robbie was willing to spend all night barricaded in his darkroom. Nobody can really appreciate all his work.

Although they were all different, the yearbook staffers had several things in common. We have spent some of the best and some of the worst times together; all of the staff worked long hours (we set a record once of twenty-three hours in one forty-eight hour weekend), yet we were pretty efficient at finding excuses for celebrations. We always got along well together, and we grew to be a family.

There are two men in this school who have meant more to the Jeffersonian than anyone knows. They are the men who taught me how to dream and who stood by me as the dreams came true.

The Jeffersonian exists today because of Col. Brown. For five years, he suffered through deadlines while imparting the best of guidance and training. He also took and developed hundreds of pictures, and never accepted credit for any of them. The dedication of this book to him is a feeble attempt on the parts of those who knew him best to thank him through his medium. He can never know the deep affection we feel for him.

Hey Big K, what can I say? Mr. Kelleher is a fantastic person. He takes pictures, develops pictures, listens to problems (personal and yearbook), settles arguments, cheers up people, gives positively invaluable advice, keeps us going when we're down, keeps us out of trouble, vouches for us in any situation, and, mainly, believes in us. His confidence in us and his high spirits united the staff, and any success which this book sees can, in the end, be attributed to him.

Well, I told you there were a lot of people to thank. I think I've covered everyone — if I've forgotten someone, then believe me, you have my sincerest apologies. We still appreciate you.

To this year's staff, I thank you for teaching me all about people. You couldn't have been any better — and I love all of you.

To next year's staff — good luck. I wish I had it all to do over again, because yearbook has meant more to me than any other experience. Knowing what lies ahead, I envy you your good fortune. I hope all of you find in yearbook what I found; I could not wish you more.

Oh yes, one more thing — be kind to Mr. Kelleher. He needs lots of care!

Sincerely, with deep gratitude,

Karen

SPRING SUPPLEMENT

This was expected to be a rebuilding year for the varsity baseball team, but several underclassmen came through with outstanding performances, which, when added to the fine jobs done by Jeff Hunt, Steve Martenson, and the other seniors, turned the season into a championship one. The Colonials should be title contenders again in '71, with only two regulars graduating.

This year's Junior Varsity Baseball Team finished with a record of 4-12. Mark Nemshick, considered by the team to be its most outstanding player, set a new earned-run average mark for pitchers of 0.30, on the way to winning three games and losing one during the season. Coach Wickline considers him the best pitcher on the team. George Augst set a new record for receiving the most walks in a season. The team was half freshmen and half sophomores and Coach Wickline anticipates a great improvement for next year.

Coach Wickline stressed aggressiveness on defense, and it was plays like this which intimidated the opposition.

Although the TJ Varsity Softball Team was young and inexperienced, it did very well, winning three and losing seven. The team's co-captains were Patti Mahan and Susan Tracy, and the outstanding players and their positions were Karen Hardison—catcher, Ellen Butcher—left field, Patti Mahan—second base, and Susan Tracy—shortstop. Two records were set this year; Suzanne Thompson hit the longest run ever on the Jefferson field, and the team completed five double plays. The team's coach, Miss Birch, feels that with ten of the fourteen squad members returning next year, TJ will be able to look forward to an even more successful season.

The TJ Junior Varsity Softball Team had its first winning season this year, finishing with a 6-4 record. The coach, Miss Stacks, attributes the team's success to its ability to come from behind, to remain calm in tight situations, and to run the bases well. Two second year players, Ruth Montgomery, a pitcher, and Patty Jordan, a catcher, did outstanding jobs in leading the team to victory.

Coach Hess thinks it over.

1970 was a rebuilding year for the TJ Track Team. Many of last year's regulars had graduated and the team did not have the nucleus of experienced trackmen it needed. However, Coach Hess feels that the underclassmen on this year's team will provide the basis for a championship team within the next two years.

Rick Cummings ended his track career at TJ this year after scoring more points in his four years on the team than anyone else. As a senior, he obtained 71½ points. He was voted the team's most valuable player and the Best Sportsmanship Award by his teammates. He set new school records in the 880, 1:56.4; and in the mile, 4:20. He came in third in the State Track Meet and was named to the All Metropolitan Team. As a result of his accomplishments, Rick became the second trackman from Jefferson to be offered a grant from a college.

APRIL 22: EARTH DAY

April 22, 1970, was designated as a day of nationwide protest against the exploitation and contamination of our environment; and students and faculty members of Jefferson were among the millions of Americans who participated in the protest. Turning out by the hundreds, they came to Jefferson that sunny morning on foot, bicycle, and horseback, relinquishing the conveniences of the exhaust-spewing cars and busses. Picking up trash along the way, blocking traffic, the participants in the "walk-in" for the most part went back to riding cars and busses the very next morning. However, the message which they carried that day, that of a clean environment, should not be forgotten.

MAY 7

President Nixon had just sent American troops into Cambodia. Four students at Kent State University in Ohio had been shot and killed. Across the nation, emotions were taut; and violence was portended. At Jefferson, plans for a student strike on Thursday, May 7, were afoot. When Thursday arrived, however, the strike movement all but failed; as most of the students showed up in homeroom. During the first three periods, an open discussion on the Vietnam war was held in front of the school, with all points of view represented. Though their feelings about the war ranged over a wide spectrum, the participants in the discussion listened to and learned from each other—demonstrating an openmindedness indeed rare in these difficult times.

YEARBOOK DISTRIBUTION

The man to whom the 1970 Jeffersonian is dedicated — Col. Charles E. Brown.

Preparing for distribution — organized confusion.

Mr. Brugnolotti and Mrs. Phillips receive gifts of appreciation.

Sandy Sperry receives an award.

CLASS NIGHT

On Wednesday, June 3, 1970, the Class of '70 met in the TJ cafeteria for Class Night, the first of the last social gatherings which would end in graduation. As in the past, awards were presented to various members of the Senior Class. Class president Bruce Deatley also presented gifts of appreciation to Mr. Will, Mr. Jordan, and the two class sponsors, Mr. Brugnolotti and Mrs. Phillips. Class Night ended with an informal dance.

THE SENIOR PROM

The Senior Prom was held on Thursday, June 4, 1970, at the Hotel Washington in Washington, D. C., marking the culmination of four years of hard work by the Class of '70. Unrestrained by the formality of their clothes, the seniors danced to the music of the Exiles. The social climax of the year, this prom was the most successful in the history of Jefferson.

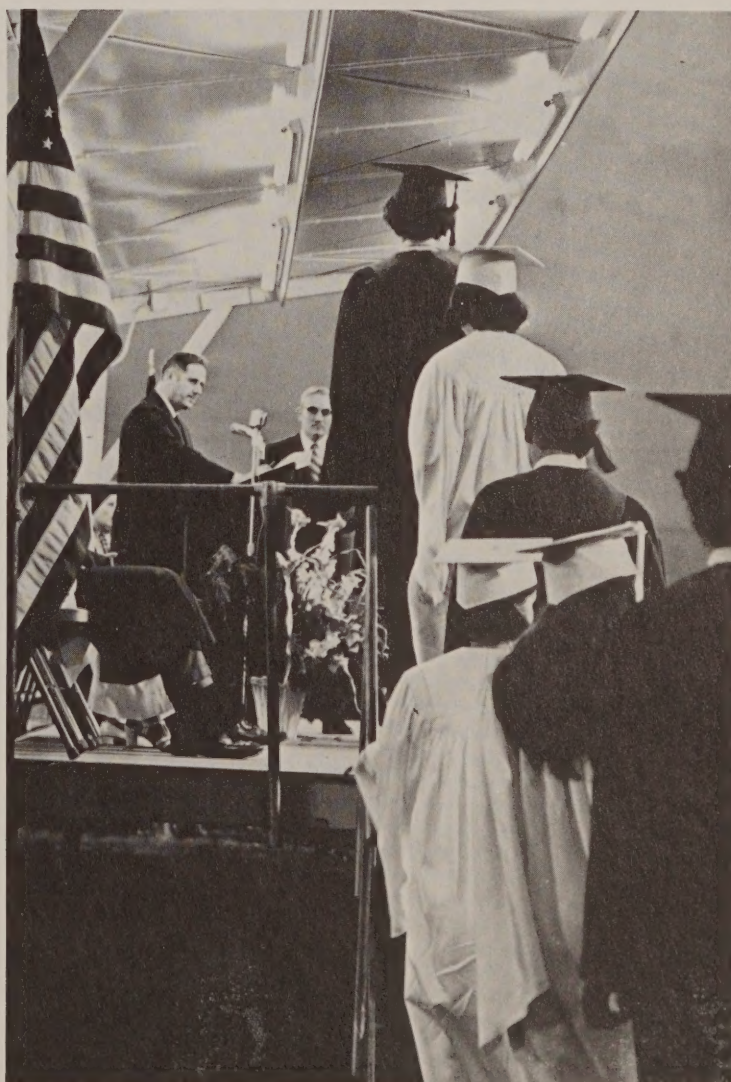

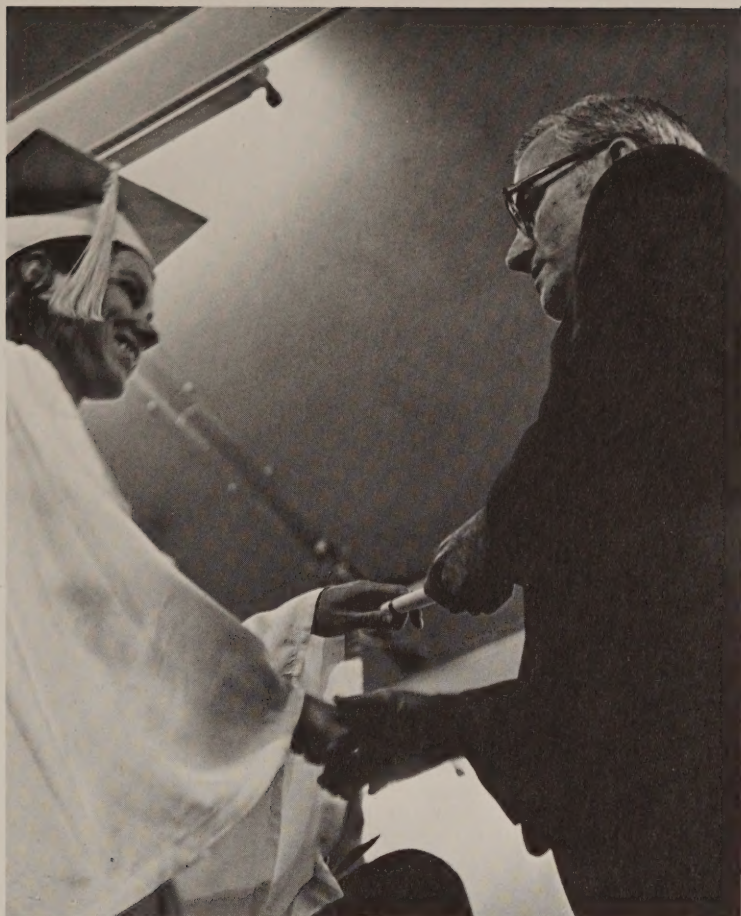

COMMENCEMENT

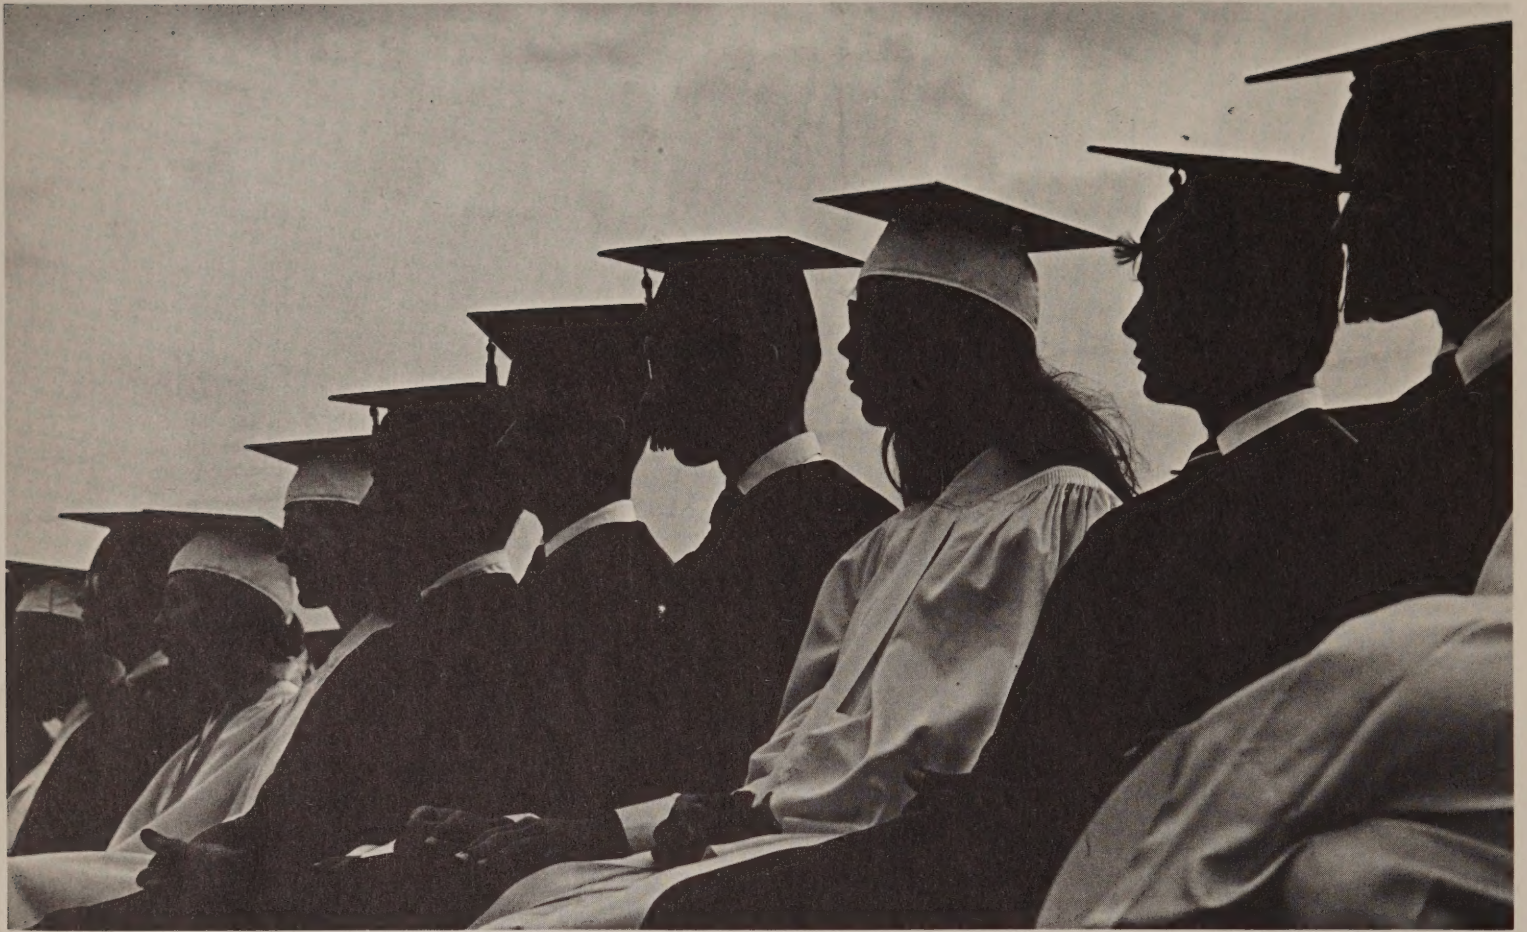

On Friday, June 5, 1970, the Class of 1970 met for the last time—to graduate. As parents, relatives, and friends jammed the football stands, they marched onto the football field, garbed in the traditional medieval robes. Both Bill Kramer, valedictorian, and Mike Cooper, salutatorian, delivered addresses to the class. The diplomas were presented by Mr. Jordan, and the seniors became freshmen once again.
